

Members of the Wisconsin Legislature 1848 – 1999

State of Wisconsin
Legislative Reference Bureau
Informational Bulletin 99-1, September 1999

GUIDE TO USING THIS DOCUMENT

The task of compiling the names of the more than 5,000 individuals who served in the Wisconsin Legislature, from statehood through September 30, 1999, is not as straightforward as it first appears. There are a number of factors which complicate this effort.

Name identification. The early records kept by the chief clerks are sometimes difficult to decipher. For example, a legislator's name may be spelled two different ways in the official journals. We have selected the most logical spelling. There are also a number of instances where the same name reappears over a period of years, but, because of the interval between terms served or because of change in address, we could not determine whether it was the same individual. In those cases, we have listed these names as two individuals. We have chosen not to include individuals elected to the legislature who died before taking the oath of office. On the other hand, we have attempted to include all legislators who served at least part of a full term. A few may have been missed if they were elected late in a session but not reelected to a subsequent session.

Party identification. Party identification is based on information contained in the legislator's biography. If the legislator served multiple terms and changed parties, we have shown all choices. Party designations prior to 1859, when the Blue Book first listed parties, are taken from newspaper accounts. In some cases, no party affiliation could be found.

Post office addresses. Legislators' addresses reflect the post offices listed in the Blue Book. The identified post office may not be in the community where the individual resided, and the place name may have changed or disappeared entirely as cities, villages and towns changed boundaries over the years.

District numbers. Senate districts have always been numbered, but assembly districts were identified as whole counties or subdivisions of counties. Beginning with the 1973 Legislature, assembly districts have been numbered. Maps or definitions of the districts are available in prior Blue Books or in previous editions of the Wisconsin Statutes.

We hope this list proves valuable. Please let us know if you have any questions or corrections.
